

Who are the children?

Where were they before the key started to glow?

What were they doing before the magic key started to glow?

Were they talking about something or playing with something that gave the magic key an idea for an adventure?

Suddenly, the magic key began to glow and the children were transported to a new adventure...

Where did the magic key take them?

What was the new place like?

What problem do they come across? A baddie? A mystery to solve?

How do they solve the problem? Does it take a while or do they figure it out straight away?

How do they get back?

Do they bring anything back with them from the adventure?

How does it end?