

Weather Forecast

Good afternoon!

My name is Tom Storm and here is your weather forecast for Monday 19th March.

Up in Edinburgh today, the temperature will be 7°C with patches of cloud, so make sure you wrap up warm.

Over in Belfast, the temperature will reach 8°C, however it will be fairly cloudy so don't expect to see much of the sun.

Around Leeds, the temperature will also be 8°C. You'll see a little bit of sunshine but be careful of the cool breeze coming from the east. It will be quite windy so be steady on your feet!

Further south, in Manchester, it will be cloudy with some sunny spells. The temperature will reach highs of 9°C so you'll still need a jacket today.

In Cardiff, the temperature will be 10°C but there will be scattered showers through the day. Make sure you have your umbrella if you are heading out in Cardiff today!

Down in London, the sun will be shining for you! The temperature is a warmer 11°C so you can leave your coat at home and you might need sunglasses for your eyes.

Thank you for watching and have a lovely day!
