

Beth measured 2 sides of a square.

She measured one side using mm and the other with cm.

The numbers were different.

True

All sides of a square are equal but if you measure in different units, you will get a different answer.

